(19) The essential condition for the operation of the process is that the Govt are to be satisfied that in any local area "cattle" are habitually allowed to trespass on land & damage crops or other produce thereon'

(20) In the present case it is doubtful whether the pre condition is fulfilled, for the municipal council proposes to impound "cattle found straying in the streets of the town without a caretaker"

(21) There is no mention of trespass & damage to crops or other produce thereon

If there is illegal seizure or if the seizure is opposed to the provisions of the Regn the seizer will be subjected with damages (vide Sec 22)

(22) Hence any person seizing the cattle found straying in the streets without a caretaker may possibly run the risk of paying Compensation

(23) As regards payment of rewards to the seizers of the captured cattle, Sec 18 may not be so construed as to admit of such payment. for the expenses "or for any other purpose connected with the execution of this Act" means that the act of seizure must refer to

24) If the street interpretation is followed rewards to keepers may not be justified

25) But if the municipal commissioners whose funds the fines are credited, agree to pay any sum as reward to any keeper there will be no legal objection

26) It may perhaps be expedient not to say that half the fine levied will be paid as reward but to say that the keeper of cattle will be paid such a sum as the procedure seems unobjectionable
